

Welcome to the Story Safari

Next

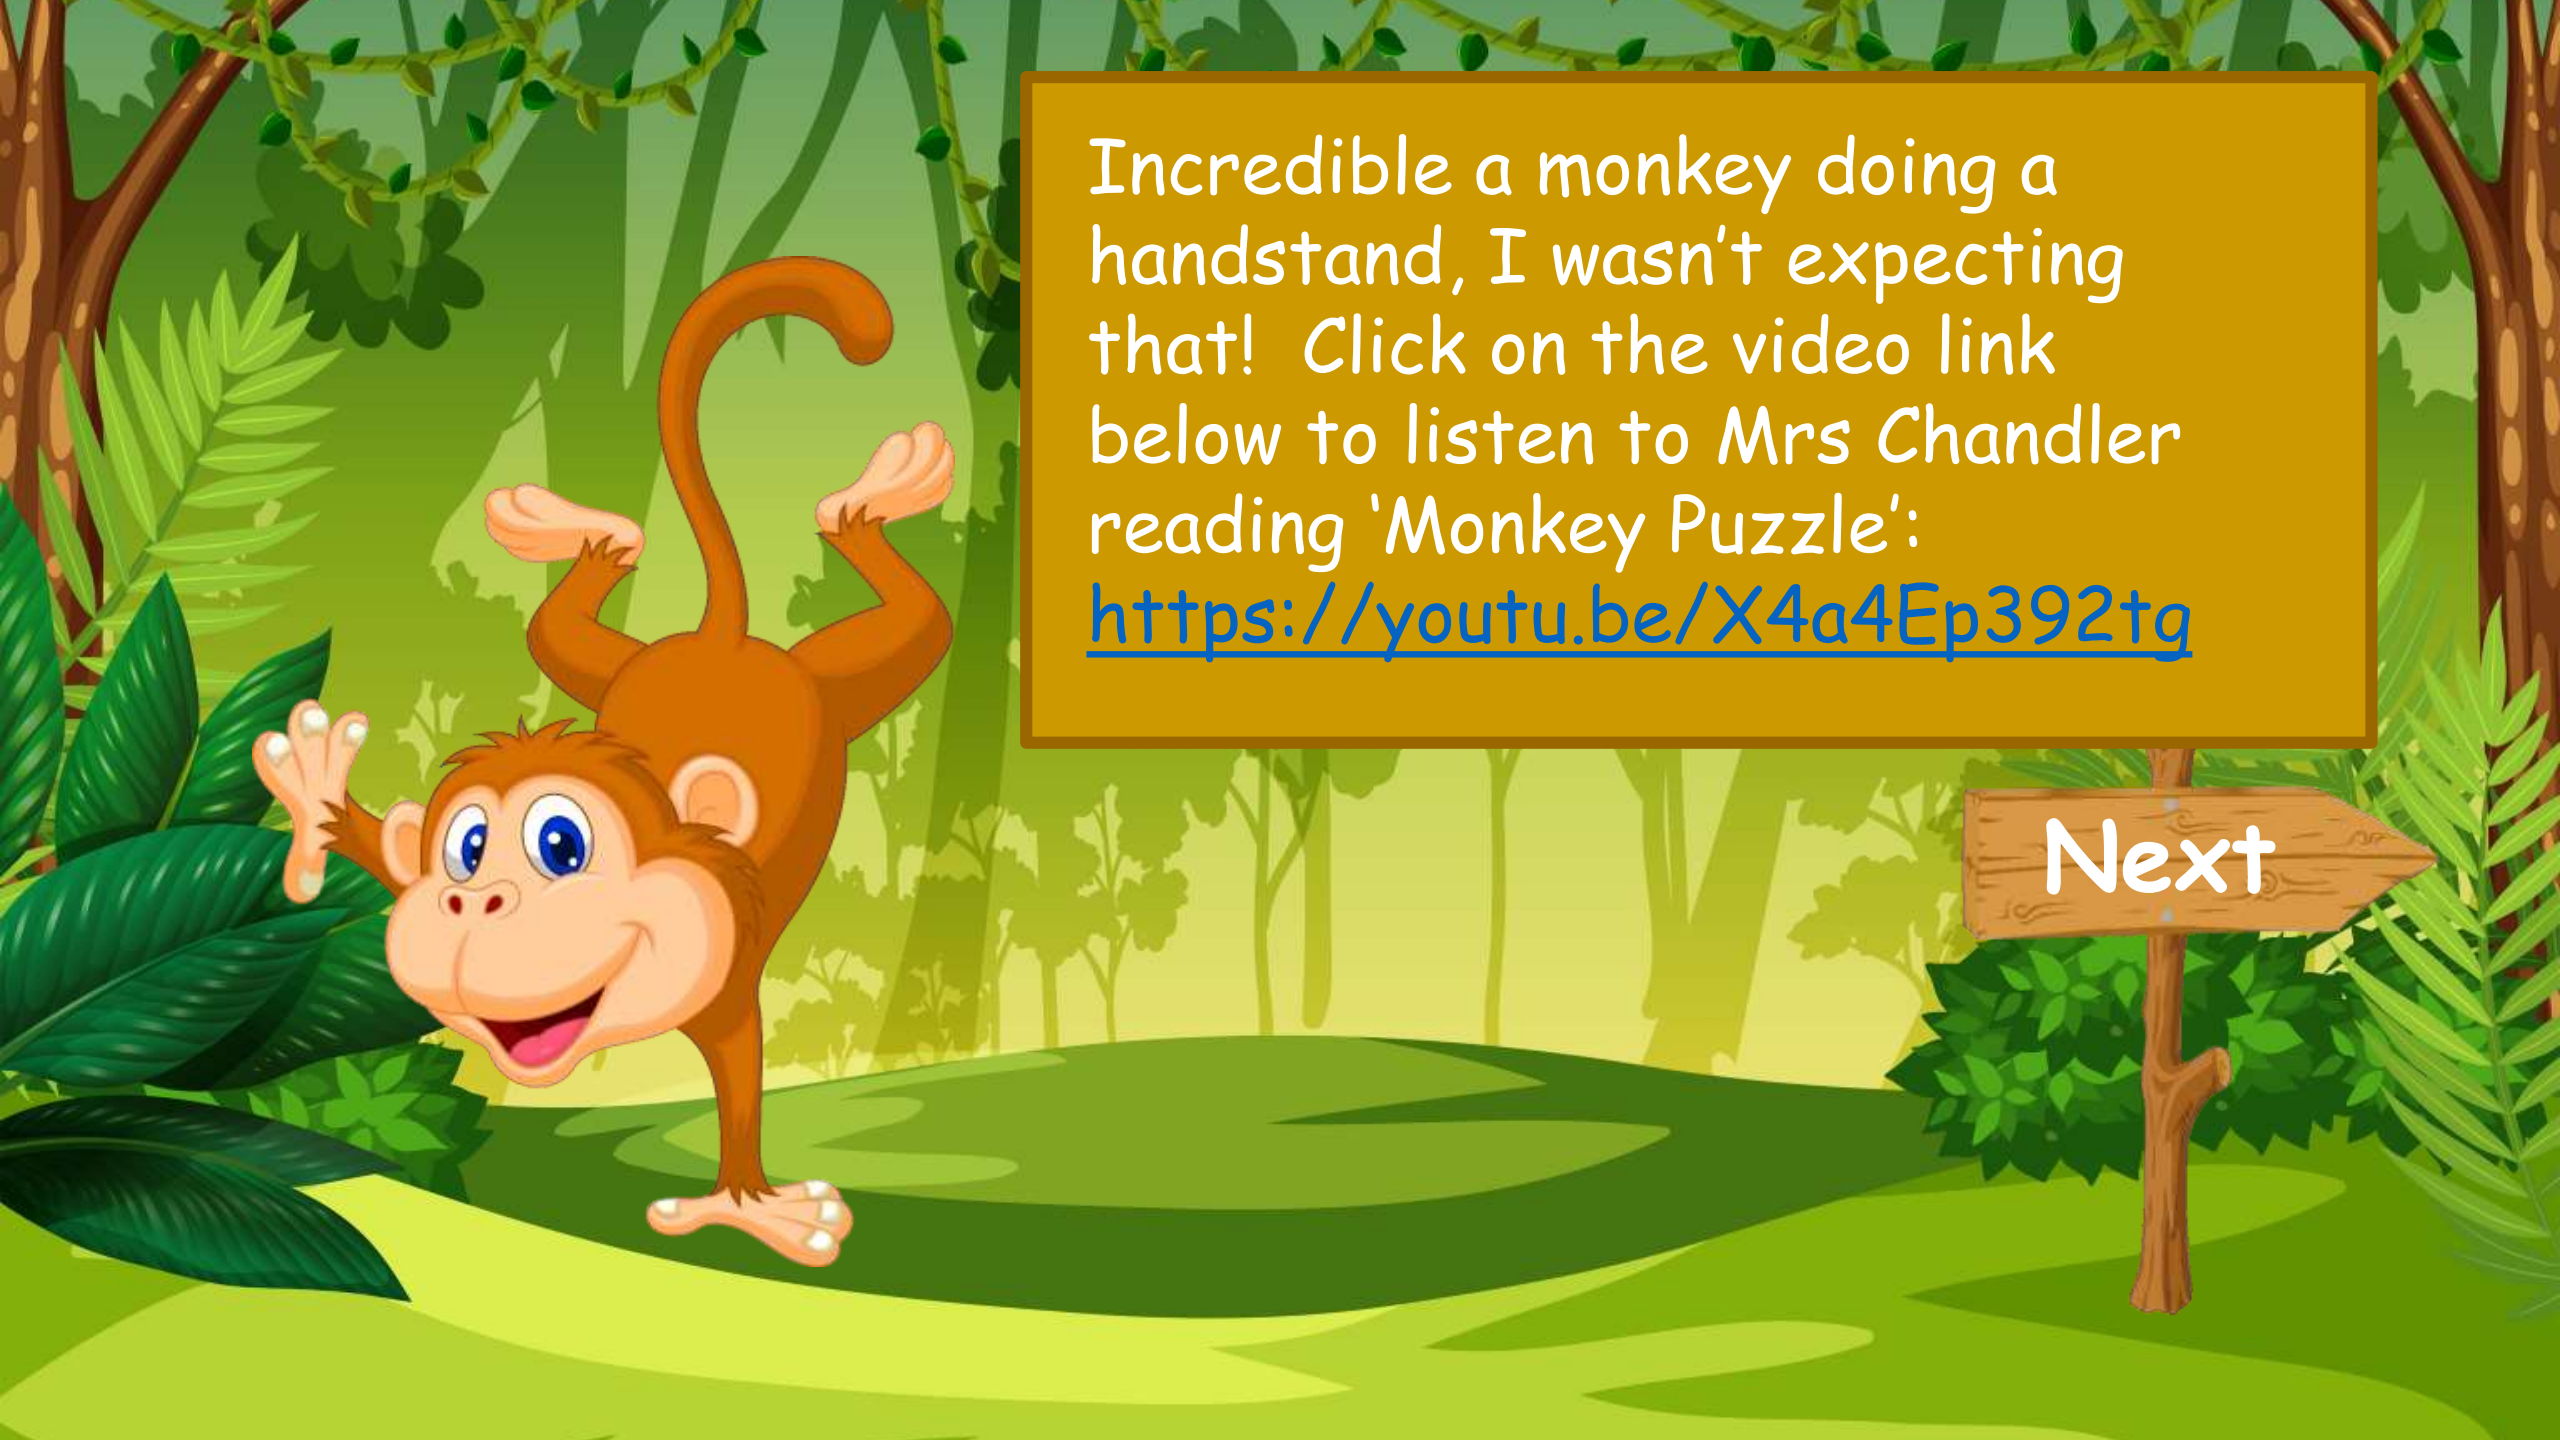

Welcome to the Story Safari.

I wonder what animals and stories we will discover on our journey today.

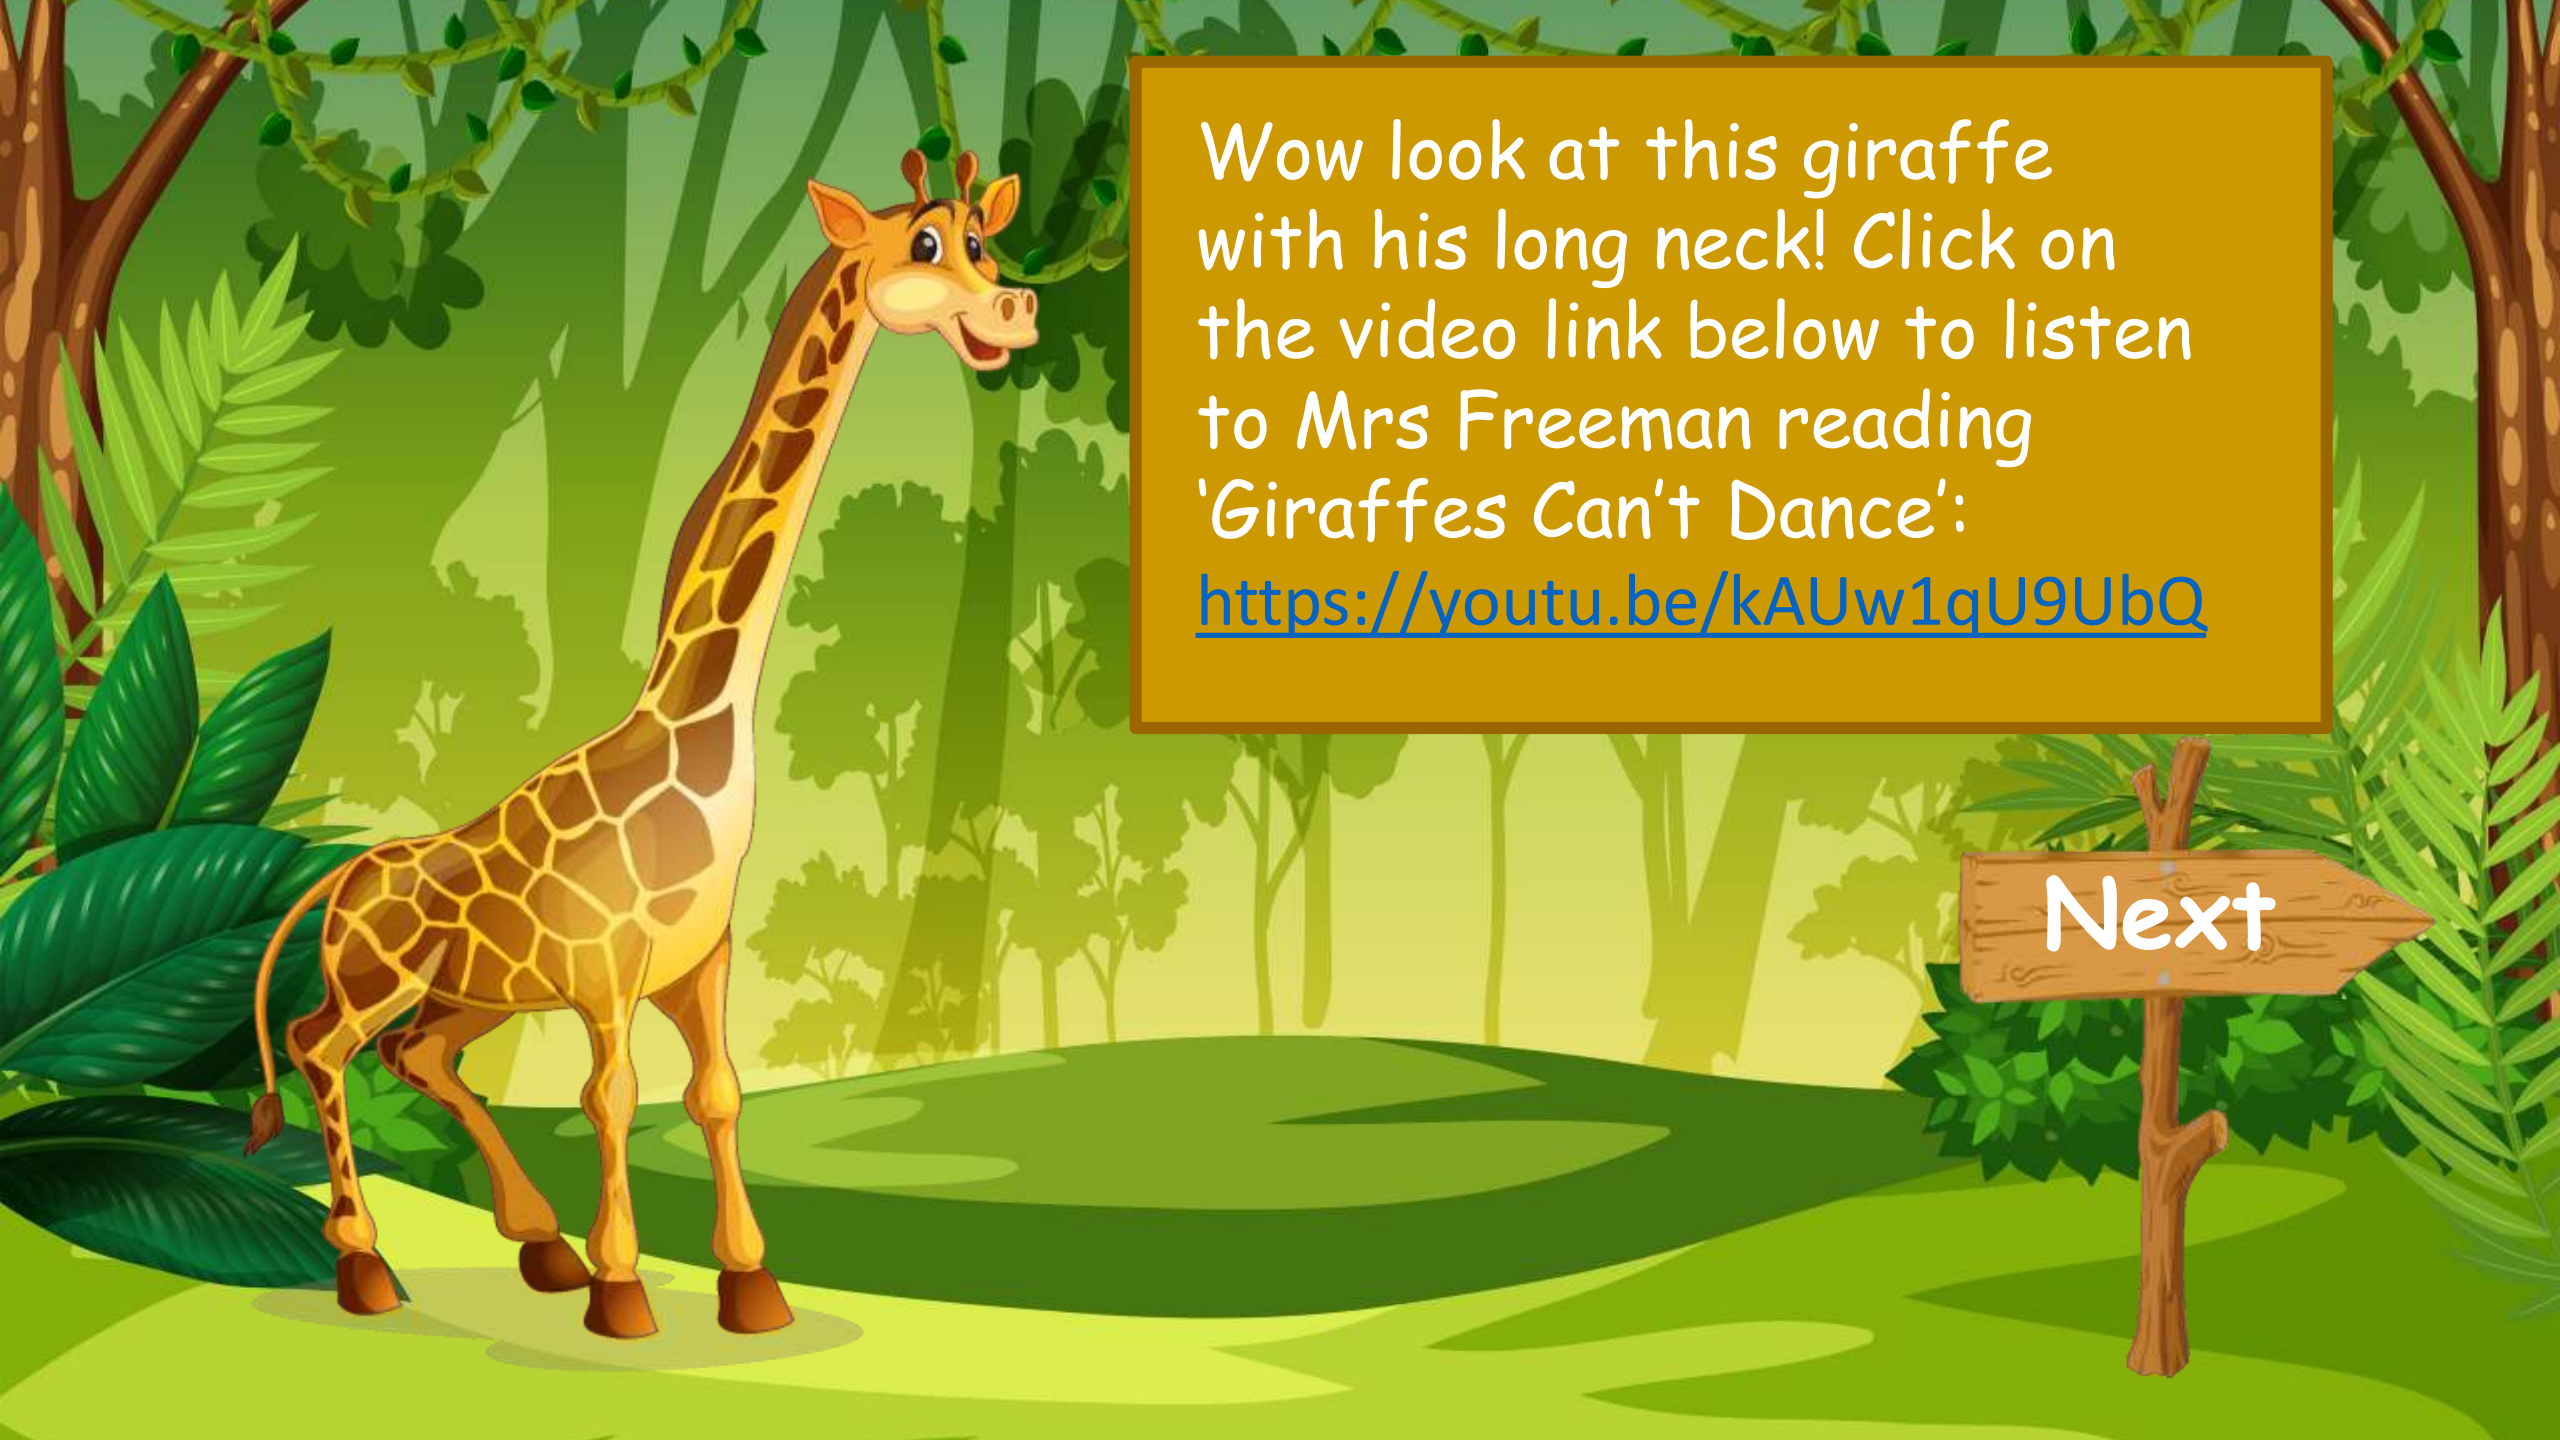

Next

A cartoon illustration of a brown monkey with a long tail, performing a handstand on a green patch of ground in a jungle. The monkey has large blue eyes and a wide smile. The background features lush green foliage, including large leaves and vines, and a soft-focus forest scene with trees.

Incredible a monkey doing a handstand, I wasn't expecting that! Click on the video link below to listen to Mrs Chandler reading 'Monkey Puzzle':
<https://youtu.be/X4a4Ep392tg>

A wooden signpost with a horizontal arrow pointing to the right. The word "Next" is written in white, bold, sans-serif font on the sign. The signpost is supported by a vertical wooden post and is surrounded by green bushes and foliage.

Next

Wow look at this giraffe with his long neck! Click on the video link below to listen to Mrs Freeman reading 'Giraffes Can't Dance':

<https://youtu.be/kAUw1qU9UbQ>

Next

Watch out for the rhinoceros; she does look quite friendly though. Click on the video link below to listen to 'Rhinocorn' read by Miss Harris:

https://youtu.be/8Elt96u_TxU

Oh dear! I think we have taken a wrong turn!
Watch out there's a crocodile about. Click on the video link quickly before he snaps! You will find Mrs Smajli is reading 'The Selfish Crocodile':

<https://youtu.be/TuVddQmMf00>

Create your own story safari at home. Pick some animals and then look through your own book collection or search online to find stories which match the animals you have chosen.

We would love for you to share your story safari with us, remember you can do this through the Evidence Me Parent Share App.

